

BrumJam 2012

You might have heard by now that the Scout Association, County of Birmingham are planning an exciting new camping experience - BrumJam 2012.

Come and enjoy Birmingham's new international camp, open to Scouts and Guides from 10 ½ to 18. Based around the 2012 Olympics and a truly multi-cultural experience, the camp will also offer a wide range of exciting activities both on and off-site, filled with adventure, high energy, challenge, fun and most importantly a chance to build new and lasting international friendships. You can expect to be amongst 1,500 campers from the Midlands, around the UK and from various parts of the World. To be held at Blackwell Court - 28th July - 4th August 2012 this really is the chance for your Group to experience an international jamboree camp on your doorstep.

You can also register for more information or book via - info@brumjam.org or follow the developments via our Facebook or Twitter pages for the latest news (simply search for BrumJam 2012) or visit the website - www.brumjam.org

We also have plenty of opportunities for adults to get involved and have some key staff vacancies in areas such as activities, sub-camps, site services and staff catering- details of these are on the website - if you are interested then please apply now or pass this info on to other people you know that may be interested in applying.

We're really excited about BrumJam 2012 - hope you are too!

Please help us to spread the word about BrumJam 2012

Visit the BrumJam 2012 website - www.brumjam.org

